COMMUNICATION WORKS GRADUATES!

MILES BEHRENS

We are so proud of Miles whose mom said, "After 7 years of hard work, Miles graduated from private speech therapy today. If you have a kiddo with myofunctional needs or trouble with R sounds, I highly recommend Paige at Communication Works. She is a miracle worker!" Paige Leising IS great, and Miles is pretty special too! Way to go, Miles!

MILO FORAL

Milo and his speech-language pathologist Lindsey Wilson proudly show Milo's graduation certificate. Milo worked so very hard to overcome his speech challenges and his family supported him every step of the way. Good luck Milo. You are a great kid and you are going to be an awesome kindergartener! We are so proud of you!

SPOTLIGHT ON RESEARCH

Children who are victims of substantiated abuse and/or neglect may show delays in various developmental areas, including language, which may affect their ability to provide a narrative account of their abusive experiences. Their minimal oral language skills highlight the importance of training police/human services personnel so they can provide best-practice forensic interviewing. There are also implications for early intervention by speech-language pathologists to support the needs of at-risk children.
